Variable pay recommended by the Wage Boards would be the minimum maintainable for all employees including those working on contract basis and the management would be free to pay more than recommended variable pay subject to performance of the workers as well as profitability and viability of the newspaper establishments.

Section III

10. Revised scale of wages for working journalists – (1) The revised scale of wages and variable pay, as recommended by the Wage Board for a span of 20 years, of each group of the Working Journalists in different classes of newspaper establishments is prescribed in Table I.

(2) Every part-time Correspondent and part-time Photographer shall be paid not less than 40 per cent, if he is posted at district head-quarters and above and not less than 30 percent, if he is posted at place below district headquarters, of the basic wage plus dearness allowance applicable to a full time Correspondent / Photographer at similar level, provided that no part-time Correspondent / Photographer will work for more than two newspaper establishments. In addition, payment shall be paid to him on column basis, the rate of which to be settled by mutual negotiations keeping in view the basic wages and dearness allowances drawn by as part-time Correspondent and part-time Photographer.

11. Revised scale of wages for non-journalists: – (1) The revised scales of wages and variable pay, as recommended by the Wage Board for a span of 20 years, of each group of the non-journalist newspaper employees i.e. Administration Staff and Factory Staff in different classes of newspaper establishments are prescribed in Table II and III respectively.

(2) Every time rated employee, that is to say, a person employed to work as time-rated employee (time-work) for either less or more than prescribed working hours and performs the job, or does the duty of a regular employee, shall be paid on pro-rata basis equivalent to the wages of the regular employee on the basis of number of hours for which he is employed.

(i) Explanation – for the purpose of above paragraphs 10 and 11

a) The Probable Impact of Wage Increase on newspaper establishments would be explained as below:

It reflects from the analytical data presented in the Annual Survey of Industries that the wages and salaries of employees in newspaper industry are normally 10% of the gross revenue of an establishment and is also supported to some extent by the information on wages and gross revenue submitted by the newspaper establishments to the Wage Boards. The proposal of the Wage Boards suggests around 35% and 20% increase in the wages / salaries over and above the salary including interim relief of employees working in the newspaper industry falling in classes I to IV and classes V to VIII respectively. Approximately, it would mean that with this increase, the wages would become about 13.5% of the gross revenue in respect of newspaper establishment falling in class I to IV. This would, therefore, result in further burden of just 3.5% of gross revenue. On a similar analogy, the burden on newspaper establishments in class V to VIII would be just 3% of gross revenue. Moreover, this additional burden on newspaper establishment would dissipate over the period as per the past trend. Based on the financial data submitted by the newspaper establishments, the Boards feel that it would be possible for them to bear such a moderate increase.

b) As regards benefit to newspaper employees

- i. In respect of newspaper establishments falling under Classes I to IV, where 35% of increase as a result of variable pay is recommended, “the current basic pay of the newspaper employee” would rise by around 2.90 to 3.20 times, and
- ii. In respect of newspaper establishments falling under Classes V to VIII, where 30% of increase as a result of variable pay is recommended, the current basic pay would rise by around 2.80 to 3.08 times.

12. Drawal of wages in the revised scales – (1) Save as otherwise provided in this Award, a newspaper employee shall draw wages in the revised scale applicable to the group to which he belongs.

13. Dearness Allowance – (1) The revised rates of dearness allowance shall be paid according to average all-India Consumer Price Index Number for industrial worker (2001=100) compiled by Labour Bureau and will become operative with effect from 01-07-2010.

Dearness allowance will become payable from the beginning of the month immediately succeeding the 12 month period for which All – India average index figures are used for determining rate of dearness allowance.

(3) The Rate of neutralization for determining Dearness Allowance payable Bi-annually on the basis of Consumer Price Index Number for Industrial Numbers would be 100 percent of basic pay for all groups of employees in newspaper establishments and will be calculated as per the formula in Table-IV.

Table – IV

Formula for calculating Dearness Allowance:

The formula for calculating Dearness Allowance would be the percentage increase of all-India Average Consumer Price Index for Industrial Workers (Base 2001=100) in preceding 12 months in question over the all-India Average Consumer Price Index for Industrial Workers (Base 2001=100) at 167 for the year July 2009 to June 2010 payable bi-annually with effect from 1st July and 1st January every year, which would be then be multiplied by the rate of neutralization and Basic Pay. Mathematically, it can be put as follows:

All-India Annual Average CPI – IW
(Preceding 12 months in question)

Minus

All-India Annual Average CPI – IW
(July 2009 to June 2010)

Dearness Allowance = -----X Rate of Neutralization (1.0) X Basic Pay

All-India Annual Average CPI – IW
(July 2009 to June 2010)
